

Study Theology. Do anything.

97%

of recent Theology majors found full-time employment, enrolled in graduate school, entered service programs, joined the military, or launched independent projects within six months of graduation.

23% find full-time jobs

Assistant director, Camp John Marc
 Assistant director of religious education, All Saints Catholic Church
 Associate director, Georgetown Learning Center
 Clinical research assistant, University of Chicago
 Consultant, Griffin Business Consulting
 Coordinator of parish evangelization, The Dynamic Catholic Institute
 Foundation assistant, Community Hospice Foundation
 Front developer, Acquity Group
 Legal assistant, U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission

Management and program analyst, FBI
 Management fellow, Cancer Treatment Centers of America
 Marketing associate, General Mills
 Orr Fellow, Angie's List
 Professional services analyst, Nielsen Company
 Quality assurance, Epic Systems
 Revenue management analyst, United Airlines
 Schoolyard garden initiative coordinator, Calypson Farm and Ecology Center
 Technology business analyst, Deloitte
 Theology teacher, St. Benedict College Prep

39% enter service programs

Alliance for Catholic Education, Denver, Colorado
 Amate House, Chicago
 Diocese of Kalamazoo, Michigan
 Dominican Volunteers USA, Atlanta, Georgia
 ECHO – Faith Formation Leadership Program, South Bend, Indiana
 Holy Cross, Uganda
 House of Brigid, Ireland
 Jesuit Volunteer Corps, Omak, Washington
 KNOM Radio Mission, Alaska
 L'Arche, Ireland
 Mount Tabor Center, Menasha, Wisconsin
 Operation TEACH, Baltimore, Maryland
 Salesian Lay Missioners, South Sudan
 Teach Bhride, Ireland
 Teach for America, Chicago, Illinois
 United Nations World Food Program, Panama

Jenna Ahn '14
Theology major

First: Volunteer social work, Farm of the Child, Honduras
Now: Program manager for community-based learning, Santa Clara University

"Studying theology has really been a chance to learn and grow in my faith and to also be challenged by it. It's really exciting to be a theology major because when you read these texts that are so full of conviction and story and witness, you think about the great depth of the Christian tradition. And it puts things into perspective for your own faith."

"Theology really relates to life, so things that you're learning in the classroom are all a way of looking at your world. It's a holistic part of your education and growth that is challenging but also very worthwhile."

"Theology is a major you do because you love it. We come to college to really learn about ourselves—not just to get a job, but to learn about yourself and to learn about others. And I think the best way to do that is to do what you love. I never thought that I would be a theology major, but it's been the best fit for me—it's been the best decision I've made since coming to Notre Dame."

33.5% go to graduate or professional school

Bioethics: Emory University
Chemical biology: Harvard University
Clinical psychology: Washington University
Higher education: Boston College
Islamic and Middle Eastern studies: Hebrew University of Jerusalem
Leadership development: Saint Mary-of-the-Woods College

Medicine: Emory University, Georgetown University, University of Kansas, University of Michigan, University of Oklahoma, University of Pennsylvania, University of Wisconsin, Vanderbilt University
Law: Catholic University of America, Southern Methodist University, Texas Tech University, University of Iowa
Optometry: Ohio State University
Political theory: University of Chicago
School psychology: Pennsylvania State University
Sociology: Rice University
Theology: Boston College, Graduate Theological Union, Loyola University, Yale University

1% launch independent projects

Source: Career Center First Destination Reports, 2010-2014

0.5% join the military

Curriculum requirements

- 1 foundations of theology and 1 development of theology course (required of all Notre Dame students)
- Christian Traditions I and II
- 2 upper-division Scripture courses (Old Testament and New Testament)
- 1 credit Proseminar
- 5 theology electives

Study everything. Do anything.

Department of Theology 130 Malloy Hall
 574-631-7811 theology.nd.edu theo@nd.edu

Director of Undergraduate Studies
 Ann Astell aastell@nd.edu

UNIVERSITY OF
NOTRE DAME

College of Arts and Letters