

KRISTA E. DUTTENHAVER
Curriculum Vitae

821 S. Ironwood Dr.
South Bend, IN 46615
kduttenh@nd.edu
(574) 386-4986

Gender Studies Program
325 O'Shaughnessy Hall
University of Notre Dame
Notre Dame, IN 46556
574-631-8635

EDUCATION

- University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, IN; projected graduation, spring 2008
Doctoral candidate in systematic theology with minor concentration in feminist theory
Dissertation: "Christian Platonism as a Radical Politics: Simone Weil and the Mystical-Political"
- Claremont School of Theology, Claremont, CA, May 2002
M.A.T.S. with concentration in philosophy of religion and theology
- Princeton University, Princeton, NJ, June 1998
A.B. in religion; certificates (minor concentrations) in German literature, French literature

PUBLICATIONS, TRANSLATIONS

- Krista Duttenhaver, essay (as yet untitled) for new book, The Global Luther: A Theologian for Modern Times, forthcoming (2008), Fortress Press.
- Frank Lestringant, "The Staging of Encounters: From Théodore de Bry to Captain Cook," trans. from the French by Krista Duttenhaver for the Georges Lurcy Lecture at the University of Chicago's France Chicago Center, May 14, 2007. Publication forthcoming.
- Rodolphe Calin, "Sense and Meaning: the Ethical Self and the Poetic Self in Levinas and Ricoeur," trans. from the French by Krista Duttenhaver for "The Self—le Soi", a philosophy of religion conference hosted by the Martin Marty Center at the University of Chicago Divinity School, January 26-27, 2007. Publication forthcoming, University of Chicago Press.
- Krista Duttenhaver, "Relative Freedoms: The Influence of Spinoza on the Systems of Schleiermacher and Whitehead." In Schleiermacher and Whitehead: Open Systems in Dialogue, ed. C. Helmer, M. Suchocki. Berlin, New York: Walter de Gruyter, 2004.
- Christof Landmesser, "Truth in New Testament Science," trans. from the German by Krista Duttenhaver. In Truth: Interdisciplinary Dialogues in a Pluralistic Age, ed. C. Helmer, K. de Troyer. Leuven: Peeters, 2003.
- Freddy Moreau, "What Process Means to Me," trans. from the French by Krista Duttenhaver. In Process Perspectives 24, no. 3, fall 2001.

CONFERENCES, PRESENTATIONS

- “Living in the Midst of Horrors” [tentative title]. Paper to be given at February, 2008 conference on The Global Luther at Northwestern University.
- Invited guest lecturer for women’s history month at Breen-Phillips, March, 2007. Lecture title: Saving the World in a Mini-Skirt: Feminism and Pop-Culture in the 21st Century
- Invited guest lecturer in the English Department, Northwestern University, October, 2006. Lecture title: Julian of Norwich, Margery Kempe, and the Strategically Suffering Body.
- Invited guest lecturer for Feminist Voices, Notre Dame’s undergraduate feminist association. Lecture title: “Mapping New Landscapes, Charting New Seas: Understanding Third-Wave Feminism.”
- “To Love Everything Without Distinction: Simone Weil’s Mysticism of the Relational Self.” Paper given at April, 2006 American Weil Society conference at Providence College, Simone Weil and Mysticism.
- “Interreligious Dialogue in Theory and Practice.” Paper given at March, 2006 conference at Boston College, Engaging Particularities: New Directions in Comparative Theology, Interreligious Dialogue, Theology of Religions, and Missiology.
- Invited participant in Notre Dame’s fall 2005 seminar in Nuremburg, Germany: "Building for the Future: Jewish-Christian Relations in Cultural Context"

HONORS, AWARDS, FELLOWSHIPS

- Pre-doctoral Teaching and Research Fellowship in Gender Studies from the University of Notre Dame Gender Studies Program, 2007-2008; 2006-2007
- Zahm International Travel and Research Grant from the Graduate School, University of Notre Dame, 2006
- Summer dissertation/research stipend from the Department of Theology, University of Notre Dame, 2006 and 2005
- Passed candidacy examinations with highest honors, March, 2005
- Presidential Award for Academic Excellence, Claremont School of Theology, May 2002
- Claremont School of Theology Presidential Fellowship, 2000-02
- Der Generalkonsul der Bundesrepublik Deutschlands Award for outstanding achievement in the study of German Language and Literature at Princeton University, May 1997 and May 1996
- Fellowship from the French Foreign Legion for work abroad in France, 1996
- Princeton Class of 1978 Foundation Fellowship to develop summer arts program for under-privileged children in Savannah, GA, 1995

TEACHING EXPERIENCE, ACADEMIC SERVICE

- Internship/study abroad coordinator and advisor for Gender Studies majors and minors, University of Notre Dame, 2007-2008; 2006-2007

- Assisted in establishing and developing gender studies honor society for undergraduate majors and minors, University of Notre Dame, 2006-2007
- Assisted in developing graduate certificate program in gender studies, University of Notre Dame, 2007
- Teacher of record for Gender Studies major prerequisite lecture class “Introduction to Feminist and Gender Theory,” (GSC 10002/20002), University of Notre Dame, Spring 2008; Spring 2007
- Teacher of record for junior/senior elective seminar “Gender, Suffering, and Selfhood,” (Gender Studies 40132/Theology 30813), University of Notre Dame, Fall 2007; Fall 2006
- French Instructor, Holy Cross College, Notre Dame, IN, 2005-2006
Taught introductory French in the community education program
- Graduate assistant to Dr. Lawrence Cunningham, 2004-05
Assisted with Theo 201 (“Honors Foundations of Theology”) and gave paper-writing seminars and tutorials for students; Translated from the French Dom André Louf’s Humilty, forthcoming, Liturgical Press
- Graduate assistant to Dr. Mary Doak, Spring 2004
Assisted with Theo 242 (“Catholic Faith and Practice”)
- Graduate assistant to Dr. Mary R. D’Angelo, Fall 2003
Actively assisted with teaching and grading for Theo/GS 220 (“En/Gendering Christianity”), led small-group seminar sections and worked with students on an individual basis
- 6th-8th Grade Teacher of record, Istrouma Middle School, Baton Rouge, LA, 1998-2000
Taught French, language arts, and social studies to middle school students at a severely under-resourced school as part of Teach for America, a highly selective Americorps program dedicated to providing an excellent education for all children in America

EMPLOYMENT

- Research assistant to Dr. Christine Helmer, Assistant Professor of Theology at Claremont School of Theology (currently Professor at Northwestern University), 2001-2002
Helped organize international interdisciplinary symposium and assisted with editing and preparing symposium papers for publication
- Library Assistant, Claremont School of Theology Library, 2000-2002
Worked with Betty Clements (reference librarian) to facilitate interlibrary loans and assist patrons with research and reference questions
- Program Intern, Capitol Area Mosaic, Atlanta, GA, 1997
Worked with and supervised over 70 upper-elementary children, planned field trips, and coordinated volunteer efforts at an inner-city, multiculturally-focused community center as part of Princeton Project 55, an organization devoted to facilitating work for Ivy League students in the non-profit sector
- Stagiaire, Département du Haut-Rhin (Alsace), Colmar, France, 1996

Guided tours at local museums in French, German, and English, helped organize a festival of sister cities, and assisted recent immigrants to France with visa- and work-related difficulties as part of the Princeton In France program

LEADERSHIP POSITIONS, ACTIVITIES

- Member of the Community of Sant'Egidio, 2003-present
Progressive Catholic lay community devoted to social justice, interreligious dialogue, and peace and reconciliation
- Chair, Corps Member Advisory Council, Teach for America South Louisiana, 1999-2000
Served as liaison between fellow corps members and Teach for America administrators, worked to implement professional growth teams, established mentoring program, and provided professional development opportunities for corps members
- Committee Member, Raising Women's Voices, Princeton University, 1997-1998
Successfully worked with fellow committee members on extensive fundraising activities, publicity efforts, and letter-writing campaign to bring Gloria Steinem to campus to speak as part of the Raising Women's Voices colloquium
- Princeton Urban Action Leader, Princeton University, 1997
Chosen to serve as group facilitator/leader in Princeton's Urban Action program, which sends incoming first-year students on week-long public service/volunteer projects as part of new-student orientation
- Community Organizer, Take Our Daughters to Work Day, Princeton University, 1996
Organized panel discussion on career possibilities, solicited support from the Princeton community, and worked with other volunteers from the Princeton Women's Center to plan the day's events and activities

LANGUAGES, PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATION

- French: fluent
- German: fluent
- Greek (Attic/Homeric): proficient in reading
- Latin (classical): proficient in reading
- Italian: proficient in reading
- Member, American Academy of Religion
- Associate Member, Catholic Theological Society of America